Avalanche At Fernie

A terrible disaster occurred at the Coal Creek mines of the Crows Nest Pass Coal Co. at 7:05 Monday morning when a snow-belt swept down the mountain to the north of the town and carried with it the carpenter shop in which some 12 or 13 men were at work. The heavy snow fall of the last 24 hours, followed by a rise in temperature, started the avalanche which carried with it the human freight. Rescue parties immediately went to work and soon the mangled bodies of the workmen were discovered and one by one were extricated from the prison and the work of resuscitation began. In the meantime the doctors of Fernie were telephoned for and a special train was quickly made up and rushed to the scene of the disaster. Six are known to be dead and at least six more injured, some without hope of recovery.

The dead are:
Jas. Buckley, Harry Noil, Alex. Worthington, D. Denario, D. Hushak, T. Kitorany.

The only names of the injured that can be obtained at present are: Walter Campbell, Geo. Michel, F. Platt and a man named people. Coal Creek had of the occurrence was when the electric light system went out of commission. This was followed by a commotion and excitement throughout the camp and the work of rescue at once began. Young Worthington was still breathing when found, and the pulmotor was used on him for about an hour and a half. At one time he seemed to be reviving as his heart fluttered a little, but he finally succumbed.

Some narrow escapes are reported just a moment before the slide came down. Worthington had been talking with a man named Langdon who had turned on his heel and walked out of the door, not a minute too soon, as he was only a few feet from the door when the blow came which dealt death to his companions. Another man, standing in the door when the slide struck the building, he was struck by the body of workman and knocked clear of the rushing snow, while the other man was carried down and badly injured. As it is not known positively just how many men were in and about the building the list of dead and injured is as yet uncertain.

Some four or five years ago a slide came down at the same place carrying away the carpenter shop which formerly stood on the same location. The Coal Company built a bulwark of cribwork across the track of the former slide, but in this case it proved to be insufficient.

Mrs. A. B. Taber, of Colder, Mo., had been troubled with sick headache for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they cured her. Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach for which these tablets are specially intended. Try them, get well and stay well. Sold by all dealers.

Hockey

The third match of the Crows' Nest Pass Hockey League was played between Blairmore and Frank on the Frank rink Wednesday afternoon. The ice was in fair condition and the game was witnessed by a large crowd of rooters.

The game resulted in a score of 6-4 in favor of Blairmore.

After the game with Frank the Blairmore team, with exception of W. Turner, who was disabled in the game at Frank, tied conclusions in a game with the Fernie crack team on the Blairmore rink. The game started about 4:15 p. m., and was one of the best exhibitions of real hockey ever pulled off in The Pass. The Fernie players displayed a spirit of sportsmanship which is seldom equaled in connection with this greatest of winter games, and this same spirit was not lacking in the home team, for every man appeared to be out for a good clean game and to protect his laurels. Throughout the entire game referee Benson had occasion but once or twice to fence his players, and the ruling of the referee was considered generally as fair and just.

The game ended with a score of 9-4 in favor the visitors, who cheered the local team for their fairness and hospitality on their first visit of the season to the Metropolis.

The game was watched by about 200 rooters from different parts of The Pass.

The Fernie hockey team played Coleman on Wednesday night and were defeated to the tune of 5-1.

Alberta's Coal Output

John T. Stirling, provincial inspector of mines for Alberta, announced in Edmonton that the output of coal in the province was about 4,000,000 tons in 1912, as against 1,094,564 tons in 1911 and 3,008,751 tons in 1910. The classification of the output in 1911 shows: Lignite 961,700 tons; bituminous, 648,745 tons; anthracite, 80,119 tons; used in coke production 61,591 tons; coke produced, 36,684 tons; briquettes produced 48,500 tons.

The products of the mines were used principally in the provinces of Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta. Forty-four mines, the majority in the Edmonton district, were opened during 1912. The older mines in southern Alberta, chiefly Lethbridge and Crows Nest Pass, show big increase in output for the year.

"The coming year promises to be the most active in the history of our mining industry," Mr. Stirling said. "This is principally due to the development of new properties with modern appliances and the improvement and betterment of the mines in operation. The completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the extension of Northern Transportation and the opening up of their branches to the various fields will mean the opening of many other properties."

"The provincial government of Alberta will establish modern rescue stations at various points in the Edmonton district early in 1913. A model station has been opened at Lethbridge, where there is apparatus for ten men. The other station at Blairmore is equipped with appliances for eleven men."

Mr. Stirling, who is secretary of the organization, said that the Alberta branch of the Canadian Mining Institute already has 100 members, principally mining engineers and managers, and is growing rapidly. The next quarterly meeting will take place at Fernie in March. W. B. Wilson, president of the branch offers three prizes of $50 each for papers on mining subjects by members of the institute belonging to the Rocky Mountain branch. The subjects are as follows:

1. For the best paper illustrated by drawings or sketches on underground haulage dealing with the varying conditions in the flat mining areas of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Also the varying broken and undulating seams of the Rocky Mountain areas. Papers on this subject will be presented at the second regular meeting.

2. For the best paper on mine ventilation, accompanied by plans illustrating the system best adapted to flat irregular and pitching seams. Papers on this subject will be presented at the third regular meeting.

3. For the best paper on mining coal under the general conditions prevailing in both the flat mining areas of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan and the Rocky Mountain areas, including

Why Not Give Your Wife = A Perpetual Present = One That Buys Itself a New One Every Year

If we told you that we had a Silver Dollar that would buy you a new Silver Dollar every year and still keep the old Silver Dollar, would you buy one? No!!! You would try to buy them all— honest now, wouldn't you? Now we have got something that will do more than that. For every $5.00 you put into BLAIRMORE BREWERY STOCK will some day be worth hundreds of dollars. You know it. Now, then, don't let the chance go by. Do it now, when we tell you that even the margin of this paper won't take the old silver or paper dollars from us any more, let them want our increasing dollars, the kind that buy more. Then you see that people are waking up to the fact that we have something too good to let go by.

When you buy your wife a Present this year, give her one of the cumulative kind, one that will not be worn out and useless next year or the year after, for even a fur coat won't last forever. Give her something that will be worth more as the years go on. Then she can eat the cake and keep it too.

In view of the fact that the Fort Garry hotel at Winnipeg is now approaching completion, that the McDonald, at Edmonton is well under way, and that work has been started on the Qu'Appelle at Regina, the duties of Mr. F. W. Bergman, Manager of Grand Trunk system hotels will become very much more numerous in the near future. Several other hotels are to follow at such points on the Grand Trunk Pacific line as Mount Robson and Prince Rupert so that, in order to keep in sufficiently close touch with the entire chain Mr. Bergman, who has hitherto made his headquarters at the Chateau Laurier, will take up his residence in Winnipeg while Mr. A. T. Folger will assume charge of the Chateau as Resident Manager.

Conclusion

The blundered man did not look up from his desk when the woman with the subscription book entered his office.

I hope, sir, the caller began tentatively, that you are familiar with foreign missions?

Madam, he snarled, his eyes still unraised, all missions are foreign to me.

Of course, you wouldn't get so angry talking politics if the other fellow had any sense or reason.

By inducing a man to run for office a woman can discover his faults without any marriage.

Help comes to those who are willing to pay for it.

Almond's Liniment Co., Limited.

Centennial—Last winter I received great benefit from the use of ALMOND'S LINIMENT in a severe attack of sciatica, and I have frequently proved it to be very effective in cases of inflammation.

W. A. HUTCHINSON.

Yes, I really must go to-morrow.

You can't stay as well stay till Monday.

But the folks are expecting me.

Telegram, that you're going to stay.

I'm sorry, but if I stay I'm liable to lose a thousand dollars on the deal I told you of.

Oh, please, the deal can wait a few days.

My manager has written me that my business needs my attention.

Yes, but he is only afraid to assume a little responsibility. The business will be all right.

There's an important meeting of the directors that I really must attend.

Oh, they'll get along all right without you.

You know how much I'd like to stay the fact is my railroad ticket runs out to-morrow.

Well, in that case I suppose you will have to go.

Thousands of mothers can testify to the virtue of Mother's Own Worm Expeller, because they know from experience how useful it is.

When the little minister, a handsome and unmarried man, made his first pastoral call on the Froedicks, he took little Anna up in his arms and tried to kiss her. But the child refused to be kissed, she struggled loose and ran off into the next room where her mother was getting a few finishing touches to her adornment before going back into her drawing room to greet the clergyman.

Mamma, the little girl whispered, the man in the drawing room wanted me to kiss him.

Well, replied mamma, why didn't you let him? I would if I were you.

Thereupon she went back into the drawing room, and the minister asked:

Well, little lady, won't you kiss me now?

No, I won't, replied Anna promptly, but mamma says she will.

Minard's Liniment Cures Cuts in Cows

Good morning, sir, said the polite book agent cheerfully.

I have a prospect, not so cheerfully.

It is not trespassing on your valuable time I should like to show you some books which—

Pardon me, if you glance at them I think—

I don't want none, I tell you. Git out of this house you say. I don't need your darned books.

Yes you do. You need two of them—this one on grammar and this one on etiquette. You may not want them, but—

Then he went away from there to save argument.

Dysentery corrodes the intestines and speedily eats away the lining, bringing about dangerous conditions that may cause death. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial clears the intestinal canal of the germs that cause the inflammation, and by protecting the lining from further ravages restores them to healthy condition. Those subject to dysentery should not be without this simple yet powerful remedy.

It's no easy task to convince a farmer that city people ever get up early enough to do an honest day's work.

No man can stand in his own light without casting a shadow.

She is indeed a clever woman if she is too clever to show it.

Bilson, who is a stout man, was running to catch a train the other day, when his friend Jones called out: Halloo, Bilson. In a hurry? Going somewhere?

Keeping his breath for other purposes Bilson made no reply, but he determined to take a terrible revenge. About a clock next morning he called Jones up on the telephone. After a deal of ringing, a sleepy voice at the other end of the wire told him Jones was there.

That you Jones?

What do you want? asked Jones. I've been in bed these two hours.

Hi Bilson, went on the other. Remember seeing me running this morning, eh? Well, I was going somewhere, and I was in a hurry. Good night.

Then Bilson hung up the receiver and got back into bed a happy man.

THIEVES LOOT MANY CABINS

Trilled by Passengers They are Captured and Put in Irons by Captain

Thieves have recently been active recently on board steamers voyaging down the Brazilian coast, and the experiences of the British Royal Mail Company's ship Amazon on her last homeward voyage probably supply the explanation.

A few hours after the Amazon left Santos a man wearing a startling gray suit was seen to enter several of the first class cabins as if he were looking for his own.

When the passengers went down to tea one of them said: A man came into my cabin while I was resting. As I thought he looked rather a suspicious character I followed him to another cabin belonging to a friend of mine, and found him putting his hand into the wardrobe. I asked him what he was doing, whereupon he fled.

A man came into my cabin, too, said another passenger. I wonder if it was the same man?

The news caused general excitement on board and inquiries showed that a quantity of money and jewelry had been stolen.

The captain ordered a special watch to be kept at night.

It was then discovered that the two men were prisoners recently discharged from San Paulo jail, and put on board to ship at Santos without any warning to the captain.

Two other passengers had also been on board at Santos.

The authorities Rio Janeiro refused to accept the men, and they had to be taken to Lisbon, where they were kept in the city jail, and were finally watched during the voyage.

Every one in the ship was relieved when the men were walked off the gangway at Lisbon.

DISEASE IS DUE TO BAD BLOOD.

To Cure Common Ailments the Blood Must be Made Rich and Red

Nearly all the diseases that afflict humanity are caused by bad blood—water, blood, and impurities. Bad blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, lumbago and rheumatism, debility and indigestion, neuritis and other nerve troubles, and disfiguring skin diseases like eczema and salt rheum, which impure the blood actually is. No use trying a different remedy for each disease, because they all spring from the one cause—bad blood. To cure any of these troubles you must get right down to the root of the trouble in the blood, and that is just what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do.

They make new, rich blood, and thus cure these diseases when common medicine fails. Mrs. John Jackson, Woodstock, Ont., writes: "I was a sufferer for a number of years from neuritis, and a general debility of the nerves and system. I had tried several doctors and many medicines but to no avail until I began Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: 'I was a sufferer for a number of years from neuritis, and a general debility of the nerves and system. I had tried several doctors and many medicines but to no avail until I began Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At the time I began the Pills I had grown so bad that I could hardly see on my feet and was forced to wear elastic bandages about the ankles. The pain I suffered at times from the neuritis was terrible. I had almost given up hope when I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the course of a few weeks I felt an improvement, and I gladly continued the use of the Pills until I was once more quite well and able to attend to all my household duties.'"

They are selling again to cure your troubles today with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

While travelling through the west a man lost a valuable dog and immediately proceeded to the office of the Hudson's Bay Co. in the town where he was stopping. Entering abruptly he said to the editor: 'I've lost a dog. I'd like to have you insert this ad for me.'

Seventy-five dollars reward for the return of a Peking Poodle answering to the name of Darwin. Last seen on Turner's road.

We're just going to press, said the editor, but we'll manage to hold the edition for your ad.

After returning to the hotel, the owner of the dog decided it might be best to add to his advertisement: No questions asked. He returned to the office to find the place entirely deserted, save for a red-haired youth, who sat gazing intently out of the window.

Where is everybody? he asked. Gone to hunt 'n' caws, replied the lad without raising his gaze from the distant fields.

John Drew, the actor, at the age of 50 looks no more than 25. He commented on this fact, Mr. Drew said: 'I try to keep my hair on and my stomach off—that is the true secret of perennial youth.'

Then he told one of his stories illustrative of the horrors of corruption.

A fat man, he said, could not help laughing at a ludicrous appearance of a very bow-legged chap—one of those arch-looking chaps, you know.

Though a total stranger to him, the fat man slapped the bow-legged man on the back and said:

By jingo, brother, you look as if you were riding a barrel.

The bow-legged chap smiled and poked his finger deep into the fat man's soft, loose stomach.

And you look as if you had been swallowing one, he said.

The decision of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway to name its new $10,000,000 hotel in Regina, "The Qu'Appelle," has been generally welcomed by that city.

The historic name is one that has a warm place in the hearts of all residents of the beautiful region attached to it as a wide appeal.

As he passed the celebrated B. Johnson, it is this: "An Indian voyager on the eve of his wedding day is paddling his canoe west along the waters of Echo Lake, west from the present site of Port Qu'Appelle."

"Our voices keep time and our oars keep time." Suddenly the stillness of the night is broken by a sharp cry, comes his song and resists his paddle, listening for a further sound, fancying that he has heard a voice uttered by someone.

Again across the waters there comes a shrill cry. This time there is no doubt but that it is the name of the voyager. Placing his hands to his mouth, he shouts, "Qu'Appelle" (who is she called?).

His answer comes once more the cry of a woman's voice sounding his name. The Indian recognizes the voice of his sweetheart and fearing some mishap puts all his strength into his paddle. Looking over his shoulder to judge of his position he sees the moon rising. At length arrived at the reservation where the Indians are camped he finds his sweetheart is dead, that she has passed away just as the moon was rising in the sky, after having called his name three times.

And thus was given the name of the town, the Indians declare that when the moon rises to a certain point on Echo Lake one can hear the spirit of the girl calling to her lover as she haunts the valley.

Three caribou and two moose heads, which seasoned hunters declare are most interesting specimens from the north country holds in the way of big game were brought to Edmonton a few days ago by a hunting party.

They bagged the heads 25 miles north of Holmer Crossing, 300 miles up the Athabasca River, where the first sign of civilization is some grading for the Grand Trunk Pacific transcontinental line.

Moose and caribou? One of them asked the words in response to a question. Well, I am ready to bet you'd see 'em. We saw hundreds. The moose tracks along the river where the animals come down to drink, are cut into the otherwise untracked wilderness to a depth of six and eight feet. The region is so full of them and they roam it as if it were their own.

Before going on this trip, I was under the impression I had seen an abundance of big game and scenery worth traveling, but now I am ready to confess that a new paradise has been opened to the sportsman and nature lover. The country is as yet unexplored, and it is picturesque and interesting and holds a combination of elements which make the travel of the tired brain and make the travel of the eye as if he were born again.

Fresh evidences of the unsurpassed mineral wealth opened up by the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in Western Canada are brought to light almost day by day and the latest is mentioned in a report just received from Hazelton which states that a body of high-grade coaling coal has been discovered in the north of that town. The property in question is on the Kitiksoia River, 25 miles north of Hazelton, and contains 31 claims, two of which have been partially developed. Of these last one is a seven feet in thickness and the other four. According to assays made in Vancouver the coal yields 48.5 per cent of coke, but it is also high grade steaming and domestic fuel.

Mr. A. K. Bourchier, the original pioneer of the Fort settlement in British Columbia, who went into that country from Ashcroft in 1906 as a freighter of supplies for the Grand Trunk Pacific, has been in the country since he arrived in Edmonton and states that with a gap of 125 miles between Fort George and Fraser Lake and a few minor gaps, the roadbed of the G.T.P. has all been graded from the end of steel at Tete Jaune Cache to the end of steel at Hazelton. The right of way is now practically cut through from the eastern to the western ends of the construction and by next spring will have been completed.

Major prospecting has been made throughout the summer and fall months. On the western end Mr. Bourchier has secured a number of interesting reports that the line is completed and ready to operate as far as the Hazelton end is concerned. It should therefore only be a short time before this extended line is thrown open from Prince Rupert.

There is just as much difference in cartridges as in firearms. How Much of Your Road Money is Spent in Filling Ruts?

If the millions of dollars that have been spent repairing worn-out, washed-out streets and roads had been used to build more miles of good highways, fewer farmers would now be wasting valuable time and money taking "round-about" routes to town.

First cost of an ordinary dirt or macadam road is usually only a "starter." The cost of upkeep soon equals that of first cost and there is always an ever-increasing annual expense for repairs. The worst feature of it is that such a road is never a really first-class highway.

IN estimating the cost of a road you should include the expense of keeping it in good condition for at least twenty years. If you don't, you're figuring on the first payment for that road, only. And the remaining payments are as certain as taxes. The upkeep cost of concrete roads is practically nothing.

Concrete roads are the best roads from the first—and the best and cheapest roads at the end of ten, fifteen and twenty years.

CONCRETE is the ideal paving material for streets in small towns as well as for main highways in the country.

Edward N. Hines, Wayne County, Michigan, Road Commissioner, and one of America's foremost authorities on good roads, says:

Any community that wants a good road, a road that will be a short time under fairly heavy traffic than any other good road, a road that is seasonally maintained, a road that is sanitary and durable, a road that is not slippery, a road that affords good traction for any type of vehicle 365 days in the year, a road in the long run 10, 15, 20 years and longer, is the cheapest of all good roads, should immediately make concrete.

WRITE for the facts about Concrete Highways. When completed, we will give you information that will save you money by telling you how to build more roads and explain just why and how concrete roads are best and cheapest.

In this great and glorious country of ours, excluded from the political arena, there is, to north, no south, no east, no west.

No wonder we don't know where we are at, came a querulous voice from the outskirts of the crowd.

The old lady from the country and her small son were driving to town when a heavy car drove down upon them. The horse was badly frightened and began to prance, whereupon the old lady leaped down and waved wildly to the chauffeur, screaming at the top of her voice.

The chauffeur stopped the car and offered to help get the horse quiet again.

That's all right, said the boy, who remained composedly in the carriage, can manage the horse. You just lead mother past.

It's the easiest thing in the world to go from bad to worse.

The Etiquette of War

War—that is warfare between civilized nations—has its code of etiquette, known as the customs of war, some of which are written, others tacitly agreed to.

Obvious examples of fighting etiquette are the rules which protect the Red Cross flag of the ambulance, and forbid the use of explosives, or within limits, expanding bullets.

Nominally, a general may use any means in his power to bring his foe to subjection. A leader may cut off his enemy's food and water supplies. He may subject him to all the horrors of famine and thirst; but he must not poison his food or water.

Suppose a place is besieged and that outside the walls are wells which the besiegers cannot effectively hold, and which the besieged can reach under cover of night. The besiegers would be justified in sending parties to fill up the wells with earth and stones, or to destroy them with dynamite. On the other hand, to pollute the wells with poison or to throw dead animals into them, would be an infamy.

A prisoner of war has his rights. He may be asked to give his parole—to promise not to escape; but he must not be asked to give his parole if he is not to be punished for refusing to do so. A prisoner on parole who at the end of the war is to be shot either when escaping or if taken alive.

An unparoled prisoner may also be shot while in the act of escaping; but if recaptured, it would be murder to shoot him. He may be kept in more rigorous confinement.

A prisoner may be compelled to earn his keep by working at his trade if he has one, or by doing work for his captors out of pure military nature. Thus, he may be ordered to assist in draining the camp in which he is a prisoner; but it would be unfair to put him to building fortifications.

The customs of war justify the employment of spies, but under certain rules. If a soldier voluntarily turns traitor, the other side may utilize his make use of him; but it is not right to tempt a soldier to betray his own side.

If thus tempted, a man may pretend to turn traitor, and deceive the enemy with false information. On the other hand, voluntarily to go over to the enemy, pretending to be a traitor or a deserter, would be dishonorable conduct. It is the traitor's duty to be an officer or soldier.

A spy, of course, has no rights, and is at all times liable to be shot or hanged at sight.

An officer or soldier, however, cannot in the enemy's camp must not be treated as a spy, but as a prisoner of war, provided he is not disguised.

If a commander takes a prisoner in charge, or persistently exposes himself to the enemy, he must take his chance of being shot. He is not to be treated the same as a deserter, but he is not to be treated the same as a deserter, but he is not to be treated the same as a deserter.

When a country is invaded, the invader can compel the inhabitants to supply him with food and other supplies, and to act as guides, workmen, and drivers.

A person who, not belonging to a recognized military force, takes up arms against an invader is liable to be shot like a dog when captured. Retaliation is sanctioned by the customs of war.

It is the duty of a military commander to take place when an outrage committed on one side is avenged by the commission of a similar act on the other.

This, an unjust execution of prisoners by the opponents.

Sabbath Desecration

In illustration of the dreary Glasgow Sunday a lecturer told this story of his late friend, J. J. Toole, who was living in Glasgow one fine Sunday morning when the sun was shining brightly.

He was sitting at a table in a restaurant, and a policeman came and eyed him suspiciously, and at last approached and said:

"Ye had better take care what ye're doing."

"What am I doing?" inquired Toole, and added with a merry wink, why, I'm not even whistling.

No, replied the Glasgowman in solemn and reproving tones; but ye're looking almost as happy as if it were Monday.

The prisoner is discharged. What's that, I asked?

You're discharged, I say. But judge, I judged guilty. I can't help that, can you say?

Yes, I was, and I think I ought to go to jail.

You keep still! The court is done with your case.

The indictment charged me with using foully, and I certainly did. Now I want to pay the penalty.

One of the judges, however, I order you to quit bothering this court. You were charged with adulterating soda water. The evidence is that you labelled your bottles soda water. That lets you out. There is no law against putting soda water in soda water. The law refers only to soda water, sir.

No intention of evading the law, I judge. I split it soda through ignorance. Can't you send me up for a month or so for a minute. The law is the law and I am here to defend it from violation. Officer, throw this person into the street.

Edward cleaned up $10,000 yesterday.

Edwin—Great. How did he do it?

Edward—Oh, easy enough. Used one of these new machines for washing bank notes.

MONKEY AND BEAR FIGHT

Brutal Exhibition in an English Town is Stopped by Audience

An exciting scene occurred at a music hall, in which the audience rose as a protest against the performance was described to the Scarborough magistrates yesterday when John Henderson, proprietor of an animal circus, was summoned for cruelty to a small bear and a monkey. The latter had been introduced at the People's Palace and Aquarium what was described as a fight between the bear and the monkey. The latter had tied to its neck a heavy weight, which prevented it from moving easily; and a small black bear was dragged on to the stage, evidently very much against its will.

I am now introducing John Johnson, defendant told the audience. You will now see a fight between black and white. It then incited the animals to fight.

The monkey jumped upon the bear's back and bit it about the eyes. The bear attempted to escape from the attack, but the defendant dragged it forward again and a fierce struggle ensued for about a minute's duration.

The bear freed itself, but the defendant again brought it up to the scratch and a further fight took place, and for earning good salaries.

SEED GRAIN AND POTATOES

Distribution From the Dominion Experimental Farms. 1912-1913

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior seed grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers.

The seed grain distribution will consist of spring wheat, 5 lbs; white oats, 4 lbs; barley, 5 lbs; and field peas, 5 lbs. These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes in 3 lb samples will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free by mail.

Applicants must give particulars in regard to the soil on their farms, and some account of their experience with such kinds of grain (or potatoes) as they have grown, so that a promising sort for their conditions may be selected.

Each application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes from each farm should be sent. Applications on any kind of printed form cannot be accepted. If two or more applications are sent, the same letter only one will be sent.

As the supply of seed is limited, farmers desiring to receive it must send their applications as early as possible, but the applications will not necessarily be filled in the exact order in which they are received.

Once an application has been accepted, it will always be given to the most thoughtful and explicit request. Applications for seed for the year of 1913 will probably be too late.

All applications for grain (and potatoes) should be sent to the Dominion Cereal Experiment Station, Ottawa, Ontario. Such applications require no postage. If otherwise addressed delay and disappointment may occur.

Applications for potatoes, from farmers in any other province should be addressed to the Dominion Cereal Experiment Station, Ottawa, Ontario. The Superintendent of the nearest Branch Experimental Farm in that province.

A Matter of No Importance

Little Kitty, with arms spread well away from her body, was sitting on the floor, when she was called to the table, where she was eating. "LITTLE KITTY, COME HERE," called her mother, as she came into the dining-room, and saw her sitting on the floor.

How are you doing?

Oh, just writing to my friend, Little Smith. Put it on your dustbin, and I'll send it to you. I'll send it to you.

Her mother suppressed a laugh as she walked over to the table, and resumed her wayward scratches.

Then she finally said, trying to speak in a serious tone, "What is the matter? Little Smith can't read."

Made to Measure

The traveller was waiting at the little country station when he was suddenly startled by a sharp ringing of a bell.

Instantly three of the railway employees placed themselves up in a line on the platform, and stood at attention.

A moment later a locomotive flashed by with a single carriage. Out of the carriage a window was open, and a man was leaning.

He made hurried notes in a pocket-book as he passed. The traveller, however, was not interested in the station-master's meaning of the strange scene he had witnessed.

That? replied the official. That was the company's tailor measuring us for new suits.

Then the traveller went mad and promptly bought a station sandwich.

Very Evident

An old bon vivant who kept a fine establishment received a visit from his maid-servant. He took great pride in showing her over the place and pointing out its many treasures, remarks Lippincott's. As a special favor he let her have a glimpse of his famous wine cellar.

You're the first woman who has ever set foot in here he said.

Gracious, I should say I was, he replied. Why the place is full of cobwebs.

While the new Grand Truck Pacific Hotel in Edmonton has been christened after Sir John Macdonald, the Great Canadian statesman it is also said to be a fact that the original settler in the valley was a man named John Macdonald, who came from Galt at the close of the eighteenth century and established what is today a thriving city of 55,000 before the Hudson's Bay Company erected the fort and trading station on the banks of the Saskatchewan River.

It is said that he crossed the plains with winter in the summer of 1782 and located on a farm over-looking the river, within a stone's throw of what is now the city of Edmonton. He died in 1840, and his estate was divided among his sons.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

Conquered by GIN PILLS

Mr. W. G. Reid, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have been for the last two years a cripple with Inflammatory Rheumatism. I tried almost everything, but no medical science and sought relief without relief. Your change of climate without relief. Your manager in this city recommended GIN PILLS and I have since taken eight boxes and am now cured. I consider GIN PILLS the conqueror of Rheumatism and Kidney Disease."

Instantly three of the railway employees placed themselves up in a line on the platform, and stood at attention.

A moment later a locomotive flashed by with a single carriage. Out of the carriage a window was open, and a man was leaning.

He made hurried notes in a pocket-book as he passed. The traveller, however, was not interested in the station-master's meaning of the strange scene he had witnessed.

That? replied the official. That was the company's tailor measuring us for new suits.

Then the traveller went mad and promptly bought a station sandwich.

Very Evident

An old bon vivant who kept a fine establishment received a visit from his maid-servant. He took great pride in showing her over the place and pointing out its many treasures, remarks Lippincott's. As a special favor he let her have a glimpse of his famous wine cellar.

You're the first woman who has ever set foot in here he said.

Gracious, I should say I was, he replied. Why the place is full of cobwebs.

While the new Grand Truck Pacific Hotel in Edmonton has been christened after Sir John Macdonald, the Great Canadian statesman it is also said to be a fact that the original settler in the valley was a man named John Macdonald, who came from Galt at the close of the eighteenth century and established what is today a thriving city of 55,000 before the Hudson's Bay Company erected the fort and trading station on the banks of the Saskatchewan River.

It is said that he crossed the plains with winter in the summer of 1782 and located on a farm over-looking the river, within a stone's throw of what is now the city of Edmonton. He died in 1840, and his estate was divided among his sons.

place from the Finnish Hall on attended.

The earlier report of the Coal Creek tragedy on Monday stated that over 100 men had been killed

It was not until noon that a more favorable report began to come in and the tension was relieved.

George Christie gave a very pleasant evening to a number of his friends on Monday. Music, cards and games were the order of the evening, and after a dainty repast, the happy crowd broke up in the warmest of ways.

Christmas was celebrated in good old-fashioned style at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin (Seniors) on the Ashdown ranch.
It was the first time they had with them such a large number of family connections for many years, having just come out from England to join their sons here a few months ago. All the sports and practices of the traditional English Christmas tree and real live Santa Claus were not missing.
The members of the family who enjoyed the reunion were George William Goodwin and family,
Watts Goodwin and family,
Andrew Goodwin and family,
Luther and Miss S. Goodwin, Fred Beale and family, John Brooks and family. Besides the above cine Hat, came up on Tuesday.

duties this week.

Hillcrest Observations

Jas Calderwood, until lately the timekeeper at the Bellevue Mine, has accepted a position with the Hillcrest Coal & Coke Company as weighman. Pittsburg seems to draw them all.

Dr. Allan Ross, the well known Hillcrest medico, has taken a holiday for a few weeks down east, his place being filled until his return by Dr. McLean of Edmonton.

We were pleased to see that John O. Jones thinks so much of his acquaintances in Hillcrest to spend Christmas day with them.
Nothing like home cooking after all said and done, and Lethbridge isn't home to Jack.

Messrs. Wilson and Quilken our worthy electricians, took a trip to Calgary over Christmas, and saw the sights. They returned on Thursday evening and say that Calgary has Burns's heat a block.

It is to be regretted that the tennis court, of which we are all so proud, has been allowed to fall into such a state, as a little money spent now in fixing it up for the winter would mean a considerable saving in the long run.

Adam Crislock and Miss Lizzie Taylor were united in matrimony at Passburg last Tuesday evening, Christmas Eve.
Both parties are well known, and popular among the young folk of Hillcrest, and all wish them all kinds of happiness in their married life.

Geo. Atkinson, the popular young Hillcrest schoolmaster, left Hillcrest for Glenora field at the close of the school year last week.
The kids were sorry to see their "teacher" leave and are hoping that the next man appointed will be as good in all respects as was the late departed and much lamented.

Frank J. Smith, Hillcrest Treasurer of the Hillcrest Coal & Coke Company Ltd., left for the East on Thursday the 19th, not to spend the holidays in Montreal.

new duties this week.

A "diamond ring" flurried by a "hat" on the face and a "brag" on an ankle that bears part of the weight of our public services, together with several "yaks" were reminders of the 1912 Christmas excitements. Not so!

The young people of the Central Baptist church are giving a concert and social at the church tonight, commencing at 8 o'clock. A good programme of vocal and instrumental music will be rendered and refreshments served. A collection will be taken up for missions.

The management of the opera house have decided to put on a weekly vaudeville act in connection with their regular nightly programme. Such, we are pleased to say, is meeting with favor and will enhance greatly the popularity of the opera house as a place of profitable pastime.

Despite the fact of a flush coal supply, seventeen Eaton's catalogues were consigned to the bread-warmers during the past week in Blairmore, and besides a slack down in the money order business at the post office, the local stores report increased sales. The advice in this paper are reaping a just harvest. Get in the swim!

Miss Rhoda McLaren, who is suffering from an abscess on the brain, was taken to Calgary on Tuesday night for specialist treatment. She underwent an operation on Wednesday and we are pleased to learn is fast recovering and hopes to return here in about a week. Her father, F.
McLaren, accompanied her.

with his parents. We regret to record that Mr. Smith's father died on Christmas Eve, a few hours after his son's arrival. The funeral was held on Thursday, the 26th, inst.

Persons troubled with partial paralysis are often very much benefited by massaging the affected parts lain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by Miss Thomas, the popular Hillcrest school-teacher is busy getting the youngsters lined up for a grand concert she is staging some time in January. The youngsters gave a very creditable performance at the Christmas tree entertainment and should be well trained by the time the concert comes off.

If your children are subject to attacks of croup, watch for the first symptoms, hoarseness. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse and the attack may be averted off. For sale by all dealers.

The Union Hotel at Hillcrest was the scene of a lively reception on Tuesday evening last when two or three plays depicting Gregor Kinnich's right to the title of "King of the Hillcrest Slaves." Gregor was beaten, humiliated, the management of the Hotel being powerless to stop the row, and several were waiting for the deposed King outside the Hotel. The Mounted Police from Bellevue were called in to straighten things up a little. Three of the assailants were arrested for lese majeste and appeared in court next day when they paid for their fun in good Canadian currency. Greg still believes he is it, however.

Needless to say we were pleased and at the same time dumfounded to notice the date from 1913 in the Xmas number of Hillcrest Observer. We welcome him back, and would not the proverbial faced calf could we only get hold of one pretty reasonable.

We saw thought our venerable friend had suffered if this mortal coil had left just about the time that Hillcrest was receiving the turn's cup at the hands of the turn's manager. We can quite believe his experiences will more than equal the strange tale of Rip Van Winkle when published, and that he will have the pleasure of trading them in the various dailies and weeklies circulated in the Pass.
